Professor Kanter recently wrote feature articles for the Wall Street Journal on how corporations of the future will behave, and for The Hill on the importance of mobility from a well-maintained infrastructure to enable America to continually evolve and improve as a society. p. 5

> Program News

2014 Final Symposium – Save the Date. p. 2

> Fellows’ News

2010 AL Fellow Rich Fahey and 2011 AL Fellow Robert Saudek’s AL Project, LEN, has had exceptional on-the-ground impact in Liberia over the last year. p. 3

> Faculty News

Professor Kanter recently wrote feature articles for the Wall Street Journal on how corporations of the future will behave, and for The Hill on the importance of mobility from a well-maintained infrastructure to enable America to continually evolve and improve as a society. p. 5
YOU’RE INVITED

Final Symposium
November 19 - 20, 2014 | HAVARD UNIVERSITY

Please continue to check the ALI events page, as new information about Final Symposium will be posted on the site as it becomes available.

Photos from the 2013 Final Symposium

FIVE YEAR REPORT

IF YOU HAVE NOT YET HAD THE CHANCE TO READ THE RECENTLY PUBLISHED 5 YEAR REPORT OUTLINING ADVANCED LEADERSHIP AT HARVARD UNIVERSITY FROM 2009 TO 2013, PLEASE VISIT THE LINK BELOW TO REQUEST A HARD COPY. THE REPORT SUMMARIZES THE HISTORY OF ADVANCED LEADERSHIP, OUR MISSION, FOUNDING PRINCIPLES, MILESTONES, KEY PROGRAM ELEMENTS, THE ADVANCED LEADERSHIP FELLOWSHIP AND PROJECTS, AND THE MANY WAYS THAT ADVANCED LEADERSHIP HAS ENRICHED HARVARD UNIVERSITY.

https://adobeformscentral.com/?f=VXIhN95UjzDTk07Lx-GrZeg
Rich Fahey, 2010 AL Fellow and Robert Saudek, 2011 AL Fellow

As a 2011 ALI Fellow, Robert Saudek joined Rich Fahey, a 2010 AL Fellow, to work on the Liberian Energy Network (LEN) in a "cross-cohort" project that Rich had founded. LEN was formed for the purpose of bringing clean, affordable, and transformative solar lights to Liberia. Since its inception, LEN has had considerable success and progress of note.

Although Liberia continues to have the lowest level of electrification of any country in the world and remains one of the world's poorest countries, LEN's distribution of renewable solar lighting in Liberia over the last eighteen months is starting to have a real impact. LEN has progressed beyond its start-up phase and is now distributing solar-powered lighting to thousands of households, schools, and medical facilities throughout Liberia.

Please visit the link below to read an update that describes the on-the-ground impact that LEN is having in Liberia:

http://advancedleadership.harvard.edu/Portals/115252/docs/LEN_Activities.pdf

Anthony Barash, 2010 AL Fellow

The American Bar Association (ABA) recently released The Beauty of Dreams, the third in a series of books incorporating concepts of legal literacy into generally accessible learning materials. The concept of this series was created by Anthony Barash during his AL fellowship year. The new book, authored by Jo S. Kittinger and illustrated by Chuck Galey, features a popular high-performing high school student-athlete and musician who learns from his college counselor that he entered the country illegally as a toddler. With the help of a knowledgeable pro bono lawyer, the student finds legal and financial resources that may be available to help him pay for college and enable him to stay in the United States after graduation.

Read more: http://shop.americanbar.org/eBus/Store/ProductDetails.aspx?productId=213290

Paul Irving, 2010 AL Fellow

Paul Irving's recently published book, The Upside of Aging, explores the aging revolution occurring across America, as the senior population shatters pre-held stereotypes of dependency and decline, as previously characterized by older age. Since its release, Paul's book has received a great deal of media coverage. Visit the links below for a selection of reviews and coverage:

Next Avenue: http://www.nextavenue.org/article/2014-06/bright-spots-and-challenges-growing-older

> continued
For experienced leaders transitioning from their primary income-earning careers to their next years of service to communities and the world.

Fellows’ News

2010

Frederick Southwick, MD, 2010 AL Fellow

Starting September 1st, Dr. Southwick will teach a Coursera course entitled “Fixing Healthcare Delivery.” This course will be cosponsored by the Institute of Healthcare Improvement (IHI). Each year 100,000 patients die from preventable errors in the U.S., and Southwick’s course will provide students with a deep understanding of the problems and the solutions, with hopes of empowering participants to become part of the solution. Coursera is an education platform that partners with top universities and organizations worldwide to offer courses online for anyone to take, for free.

Learn more: https://www.coursera.org/course/fixinghealthcare

2011

Gilberto Dimenstein, 2011 AL Fellow

Vila Madelena, a neighborhood in São Paulo, Brazil, visited by 2009 and 2012 AL Fellows as part of their field experience, was the subject of a New York Times story, “World Cup Revelry Overwhelms Beloved Neighborhood in São Paulo.” Gilberto Dimenstein, 2011 AL Fellow, is featured in the article and quoted several times.

Professor Barry R. Bloom
Harvard University
Distinguished Service Professor
Joan L. and Julius H. Jacobson Professor of Public Health, Department of Immunology and Infectious Diseases, Harvard School of Public Health
Co-Chair, Advanced Leadership Initiative

Professor Bloom was recently interviewed for a feature story, “Talking the Talk on Vaccines,” on the Harvard School of Public Health news site. Recent disease outbreaks have been traced to deliberately unvaccinated Americans, and the anti-vaccine sentiment is a serious health concern. Professor Bloom thinks health care providers need better strategies—based on solid evidence—for communicating the importance of vaccinations to hesitant and skeptical parents.

Read the entire interview here: http://www.hsph.harvard.edu/news/features/talking-the-talk-on-vaccines/

Professor Amy C. Edmondson
Novartis Professor of Leadership and Management, Harvard Business School
Executive Board Member, Advanced Leadership Initiative

Professor Edmondson’s latest book, Teaming, was selected by Medscape, a web resource for physicians and other health professionals, for 2014 summer reading.

Read more: http://t.co/UvfGBBWyMF

Professor Rosabeth Moss Kanter
Chair and Director, ALI
Ernest L. Arbuckle Professor of Business Administration, Harvard Business School

Professor Kanter recently wrote a feature article for the Wall Street Journal on how corporations of the future will behave. In the piece, Professor Kanter says that companies will converge on a few universal standards and norms.

Read the full article here: http://online.wsj.com/articles/rosabeth-moss-kanter-on-how-corporations-of-the-future-will-behave-1404763051

Professor Charles J. Ogletree
Co-Chair, Advanced Leadership Initiative
Jesse Climenko Professor of Law
Executive Director, Charles Hamilton Houston Institute for Race and Justice, Harvard Law School

On the 50th anniversary of the Civil Rights Act’s passage, Professor Ogletree moderated a discussion on the topic, including recent controversial “stand your ground” laws, at the Museum of African American History in Boston on July 2nd.

Learn more about the event here: http://www.bostonglobe.com/2014/07/05/celebrating-civil-rights-act/PLU7XlaxNyU-2vCdoR4gAL/story.html

Professor Kanter also wrote an article for The Hill, a newspaper written for and about the U.S. Congress, with a special focus on business and lobbying, political campaigns, and other events on Capitol Hill. The article, “Reframing infrastructure: It’s really mobility,” advocates for the investment in mobility to create ladders of opportunity for middle and low income workers. Mobility is key to the evolution of our overall economy. As history has shown, significant investments in mobility propelled growth as remote areas gained transportation connections and new economies were created. To get America moving, Kanter calls on elected officials, entrepreneurs, and business leaders to take action.

Read the full article here: http://thehill.com/blogs/congress-blog/economy-budget/211476-reframing-infrastructure-its-really-mobility
Message from the Chair

Summer is a wonderful time for reflection and planning as the 2014 AL Fellows continue their project work and we look towards fall. Please be sure to save the date for 2014 Final Symposium, as listed in the “Upcoming Events” section of this issue. We wish you all continued success and progress on your project work to make the world a better place.

Rosabeth Moss Kanter
Chair and Director,
Advanced Leadership Initiative
Ernest L. Arbuckle Professor of Business Administration
Harvard University

ELECTRONIC nomination INFORMATION

Below is a link to electronic nomination information. The file contains key facts about the Fellowship, lists of Fellows to date, faculty leaders, and a response form. We hope you will keep this nomination information on file and refer candidates.

If you would like a hard copy of this nomination information, please contact Fellowship Director John Kendzior (john.kendzior@harvard.edu; direct phone 617-496-2452) or any of the ALI staff (main office phone 617-496-5479) will be glad to assist you.

Find past issues of the ALI newsletter online:

http://advancedleadership.harvard.edu/publications/newsletters/

COHORT CONNECTORS

2009 Cohort
Shelly London
Hansueli Maerki
Bob Whelan

2010 Cohort
Veronica Biggins
Doug Rauch
Rodney Slater

2011 Cohort
Gwen Norton
John Taysom
David Weinstein

2012 Cohort
Tony Clancy
Anne Greenwood

2013 Cohort
Eileen Odum
Bill Plapinger

2014 Cohort
Mary-Louise Cohen
Arjun Gupta
For experienced leaders transitioning from their primary income-earning careers to their next years of service to communities and the world.