ALI IN THE NEWS

ALI was recently featured in Fortune article, "Fortune's World's Greatest Leaders: 50 intrepid guides for a messy world." Governments are failing, companies are under siege, and age-old institutions are losing their grip. How do you lead in a time when everyone is a free agent, following his own star? Fortune highlights Professor Kanter and the importance of Advanced Leadership in helping to train a leadership force to navigate the current, complex landscape facing today's leaders.

2015

C. David Moody, 2015 AL Fellow

David was recently featured in an article for NO MORE, a movement dedicated to raising public awareness and engaging bystanders around ending domestic violence and sexual assault by breaking down the barriers of stigma, silence and shame that keep people from talking about these issues and taking action to prevent them. In the piece, "Ten Lessons from A Male Survivor of Sexual Abuse," David provides lessons from a lifetime of sexual abuse recovery, in his own words. David is also featured in a blog post from RAINN (Rape, Abuse & Incest National Network), the nation's largest anti-sexual violence organization, "Survivor Spotlight: Mental Health Awareness" in which he talks about his struggles with mental health due to sexual abuse and the ways that he has worked to overcome them.

Message from the Chair and Director

With Cross-Cohort Exchange just behind us, it is an ideal time to reflect on seven years of Advanced Leadership - spanning 2009 to present - resulting in the growing network of AL Fellows, friends, colleagues, and connections that you see today. We would like to express our deep appreciation for the generosity of donors, whose contributions have allowed us to create this robust community of AL Fellows - past, present and into the future. We also thank our current cohort for their hard work throughout the year, and Past AL Fellows for coming to Harvard to give of their time and provide insight and advice to the current cohort. As 2015 AL Fellows scatter around the world following the Global Conference in Mumbai, we wish them and all of you in the ALI community, a safe and satisfying summer.
